BEDSIDE VERSION

IMUGARD III-RC LEUKOCYTE FILTER FOR RED BLOOD CELLS

Technical Information

IMUGARD III-RC is a bedside leukoreduction filter for use with red blood cells or red blood cell products. It includes a spike to connect to the blood component storage bag, tubing, a leukoreduction filter, a drip chamber and a male connector to attach the needle used for transfusion. It also features two air vents—a vent to release air pressure when priming the filter and a vent on the filter. There are two clamps: one above the filter to control blood flow to the filter and one below the filter to control blood flow to the patient. IMUGARD III-RC is designed to remove leukocytes and microaggregates from a single unit of packed red blood cells or whole blood.
